CONCORDIA ATHLETICS:

This year, Concordia intercollegiate athletics graduates from a three year program, majoring in merger. Based on the performance of the past two years, the potential graduate should get through with flying colors.

At the same time, many other Concordia students will complete three year undergrad programs this year having known nothing but Concordia Athletics. The Class of '78 recalls little of how Concordia came to be a familiar sight on the fields and in the gyms and rinks of colleges and universities in North America, and even Europe.

Few remember the hatred and the often bitter rivalry between Loyola and Sir George— the two schools that came to form Concordia. Since 1975, Concordia athletes have excelled in all sports and have contributed greatly in making the merger a success.

In the short two year history of Concordia intercollegiate athletics, the most successful group of Stingers has to be the soccer squad, led by coach Harry Hus. For the past six seasons, Hus-coached teams have been the dominating power in Quebec and Canadian college soccer. In 1975 Hus coached the infant Stingers to a berth in the national final before bowing out to the University of Victoria.

Undaunted, Hus reached the finals again in 1976 and on a cold, wet fall afternoon at McGill's Molson Stadium, the Stingers captured the Canadian crown. This is the first and only national champion Concordia has won, but it is not from a lack of coming close.

Take for instance the record of Concordia's men's hockey team. The past two seasons they have been Quebec league and playoff champs. In 1975-76 under coaches Paul Arsenault and Bob Philip, they set numerous team records, losing only three games all year. However two of those losses were to the Toronto Varsity Blues, both by the score of 3-2.

FIBERGLAS[®]
CANADA LTD

THE CLASS OF '78

The second loss ended their season and stopped the championship drive at the round robin Canadian finals. The fact that the Blues went on to win the hockey crown was of little consolation to the Stingers.

In 1976-77, the Stingers lost many experienced veterans from the year before, but still managed to win the league and Quebec playoffs, thanks in part to the scoring exploits of centre Glen Tomalty. The team couldn't get by the Eastern Canadian championship, bowing out to a tough St. Mary's team at the Huskies' home in Halifax. A definite highlight of the season was when the Stingers toured Czechoslovakia during the Christmas break.

For the women basketball Stingers, success did not come easily or quickly. In their initial season of play the women had to settle for a third place QUAA finish for the season. However Mike Hickey's forces rebounded in 76-77 to become a power on the Canadian court. The women were good enough to earn the country's top ranking, which didn't help cushion their defeat in the Canadian finals.

The men's basketball team was just the opposite. Coach Doug Daignault took the top team in Quebec to the nationals in Halifax in 1976, only to bow out in the first round. In 76-77, the Stingers struggled all year and finally fell victim to a revived McGill basketball program in the Quebec playoffs.

Probably the toughest time of it, as far as Concordia is concerned, has been on the intercollegiate football field. In the two short years of Concordia, football has known more bad times than good, more disasters than devastations, more losses than wins. In this third year of Concordia, the gridiron gang has their work cut out for them.

One of Concordia's more enjoyable teams is the women's hockey team. Although they do not have a league to play in with other Quebec colleges and universities, with tournaments and exhibitions, the women display an exciting brand of sport, whose enthusiasm should be duplicated elsewhere.

All in all, Concordia's short athletic history is the base for providing an excellent future based on the success of these early years.

Coach Harry Hus's Soccer Stingers outscored their opponents 59-4 last year en route to a 10-1 record and the CIAU National Championship. It was Concordia's first national title, but not the first for Hus, who engineered the feat in 1973 with his Loyola Warriors. Both were overtime wins.

Goalie Wally Smith was the other common denominator of both championship squads, but Smith has graduated and will be missed not only for his goalkeeping but also for his leadership qualities. Fortunately for Hus all three of the league's leading scorers will be back for another season. Bob Bertschi (11 goals), Joe Dakkak (11 goals) and Nick Miscevic (8 goals) are expected to continue attacking opposition goalies.

Also gone are Trevor Murray, Ihor Hupaliwsky, Jim Kelly and Gord Wallace, who scored the winning goal in overtime against Dalhousie in the national final. "You don't replace these guys over night," said Hus. "They were key people, but we have a strong nucleus returning as well as some outstanding newcomers. On paper we look pretty good. I think we'll be fine."

Besides the goal scorers, returning personnel includes mid-field players Francisco Campo and Gus Triantafilos, backs Leo Delaney and Stanley Darville, as well as last year's co-captain, Mike Reynolds. Also back to assist Hus is Coach Harry Noetzel.

Most promising in the newcomer department are LaSalle Rangers graduates Gilles Lebus, Carl Dragoun, and goalie Terry Scullion. All three played on the 1974 Loyola Park team which won the Canadian Junior championship. Word has it that another top defensive player, Paul McGuire, is transferring from UNB where he was MVP last year.

There's no doubt that Hus has his eye on another National title this year. After all the QUAA is a foregone conclusion. His Warriors and Stingers have been undefeated in six seasons.

Steve Barry is congratulated by teammates after scoring touchdown that sparked the Stingers to a win over McGill in annual Shaughnessy Cup Game.

1977 OUTLOOK

With 26 returning lettermen and several newcomers, head coach Doug Daigneault views the upcoming 1977 football season with cautious optimism.

Concordia embarked on a rebuilding program last year and finished out of the play-off picture with a 2-4-1 record. And despite the loss of stand-outs Bernie Muldoon, Mike Walukavich, Jim Donovan, Tony Perkins and Mark Carter through the graduation ranks, Daigneault feels the 1977 version will be a greatly improved team.

"We made a lot of freshman mistakes last year because of inexperience," Daigneault explained prior to the opening of the 1977 training camp. "If some of the rookies and second-year players can fill some key positions, we will be a play-off contender".

Offensively the Stingers must replace receivers Muldoon and Donovan and center Carter. The offensive backfield is strong with quarterbacks Andy Morley, John Hannivan and Mike Hume returning along with halfbacks Scott McLachlan, Mario Spina and fullback Rick Carbone. Morley has been the number one signal caller the past two seasons while Spina was voted the school's freshman male athlete of the year.

The return of defensive back Gary Simpson, who suffered a knee injury last year, should solidify the defensive backfield. Other returnees include backs Fran Tognari, Bruce Malloch, Larry Muir and Kevin Gilead, linebackers Mike O'Rourke and Mark Budness and linesman Rea Vandenbosh.

The Stingers open up the '77 season with a home contest against the Carleton Ravens at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, September 10. Concordia then goes on the road with a Friday night game against the Ottawa Gee-Gees and a Saturday afternoon contest against the cross town rival McGill Redmen. The gridders return home October 8th to host the Bishop's Gaiters, travel to Trois-Rivieres and Bishop's before closing out the regular season with a home game against the Queen's University Golden Gaels.

Doug Daigneault will also be working with a new coaching staff. Offensive line coach Robbie Allen is the only returnee from last year with Jim Adams, Tony Pugliese, Mike Groper, Tom Nolan and Mark Carter joining the staff.

1976-77 Stingers

NEW ERA BEGINS FOR STINGER HOCKEY

The 1977/78 season marks the beginning of a new era for Concordia hockey now only 3 years since the merge of the Loyola and Sir George dynasties.

In the last two seasons Paul Arsenault and Bob Philip have lost 16 players from the Stinger machine that broke all Canadian records for victories in a single season (43) and chalked up a 76-16-6 won lost tie record against the best college sextets in Canada and the U.S. Along the way the team developed 5 All-Canadians, Corsi, Tomalty, Morris, Wilson and Shewchuk and four professionals Corsi, Morris, Wilson and Ron Hansis. Tomalty, Mohns and Dave Boyd will attend pro-camps this year and they may also join the ranks of professional players developed at Concordia.

SOPHOMORES HOLD KEY

Second year players hold the answer to Concordia's fate this year and the best of these, center Kim Elliott could be the top college player in Quebec since the days of Larry Carriere and Bob Berry. Swift wingers Bill Doherty, Alex Westgate and Mark Firoentino are poised to replace graduates Sinclair, Harris, Mohns and Tomalty and sophomore defensemen Ken McCarthy and Barry Byers, both transfers from R.P.I., will attempt to fill the void left by the departure of perennial all-stars Bob Lagarde and Dave Boyd.

VETERANS REMAIN

Three key veterans remain from the initial Stinger squad and they must provide the leadership and maturity especially during the early season. Winger Gaetan Potvin coming off his best collegiate season ever in '76 should take over as the team's leading scorer and all-Canadian candidate. Defenseman Michael Blais must anchor the blueline corps and Scott Bate-man also coming off his finest season, despite multiple injuries, can be the inspirational leader of the team. Two other experienced forwards Dwayne Byers and Albert DiFazio from the North American league will add strength to the Stinger ranks.

/// I'm talking about the all new Micron hockey skate. The one skate that combines advanced design with the very latest in materials and skate building technology.

The Micron people went all out to make this new lightweight skate a real performer...and they succeeded. Micron skates are becoming the most talked about new product in years. Professionals like Larry Robinson and Ian Turnbull are really enthusiastic about Micron's injection molded outer shell with the exclusive hidden hinge. And they like the special inner boot with its foam padding for extra comfort and protection.

I think a great hockey skate can improve anybody's game.
Even in my league! //

THE NEW MICRON SKATES:

Micron M1: pure performance at a reasonable price

*Micron M1-Jr: Micron excitement for the younger player.

Micron Master: the ultimate expression of the new Micron technology with an inner boot wrapped in genuine glove soft leather.

STINGER BASKETBALL

Despite the loss of three former All-Canadians, the Stinger varsity cagers could field the strongest team in the school's history.

The Stingers officially ended an era last February when five year veterans Ron Puskarich and John Erglis played in the Q.U.A.A. Championship game against the McGill Redmen. Puskarich, the school's all-time leading scorer was an All-Canadian selection in 1976, while Erglis received similar honors in 1975. Gone also is Jim Akin, a graduate student out of Wesleyan College in Hartford, who earned all-Canadian status last season — and Doug Merlin, another five-year veteran.

What has Concordia followers excited about the coming season is an excellent group of first-year players. Coach Doug Daigneault has recruited several outstanding Canadian players including Dan Pavlicik of Guelph, John Ippolito of Dawson College, Tim Bush of Val David, Bob Harmidy of John Abbott College and Pete Smith of Oakville. Daigneault has labelled Smith a star of the future who could break into the starting line-up his freshman year.

From south of the border the Stingers have two players out of powerful Archbishop Molloy High School in New York City, the alma mater of former Sir George great Tom Brethel. Rick Hagens a strong 6'4" forward and Mike Molloy a 6'1" shooting guard.

The veteran coach will also have two experienced imports to add leadership and stability to the young squad — Bill Campion, a 6'10" all-American from Manhattan College and Bruce Harman, a 6'1" guard from Clemson University. Campion played one year with Mike Moore and was drafted by the N.B.A. in 1975.

Add to this list the names of veterans Frank Zulys, Bruce Collins and Jeff Boyle. Coach Daigneault feels that Boyle, hampered most of last season with an ankle injury, could be the surprise of the season.

All-Canadian Ron Puskarich hits a jumper against the Brandon Bobcats as rookie Jeff Boyle looks on. Puskarich, along with John Erglis and Doug Merlin wrapped up a brilliant five year career last season.

Doug Daigneault will prepare his squad for an assault on the Quebec University Athletic Association title with an impressive non-conference slate to supplement a reduced league schedule. Although the league has dropped to four teams and just nine games, it could be the most balanced in Q.U.A.A. history, with a new champion, the McGill Redmen and the vastly improving Bishop's Gaiters and Trois-Rivieres Patriotes.

The highlight of the 1977-78 schedule will be the 12th Centennial Pepsi Invitational Tournament. The pre-tournament favorite is Merrimack College, a pressing fastbreaking squad hailing from North Andover, Massachusetts. The Frank Monahan coached Warriors are New England Division II contenders year in and year out. The other entries are the Carleton Ravens and St. Anselm's College from Manchester, New Hampshire. The Ravens finished second in the O.U.A.A. East behind Richie Spears' Laurentian Voyageurs.

The Stingers will appear in three other tournaments. They open their season in the Acadia Tip-Off Tournament, November 12, return to the Maritimes later that month to participate in the St. Francis Xavier tournament and will appear in the Merrimack tourney in January.

Concordia rounds out its schedule with contests against Ottawa, Clarkson, Potsdam and C.W. Post. Post, a N.C.A.A. Division II from Long Island will open the home schedule when they face the Stingers — Saturday, November 19th at the Athletic Complex.

STINGER BASKETBALL ♀

The 1976-77 Concordia women's Basketball team established an enviable record that will be hard to duplicate. And while coach Mike Hickey realizes that the coming season will be a rebuilding year with only four players returning, he believes that the women cagers have established Concordia as a national power.

Last year's championship squad breezed through the Quebec University Athletic Association en route to a 33-4 overall season and a third place finish in the C.W.I.A.U. National Championships. In addition, the Stingers were the only team to defeat the Laurentian Vees, three time C.W.I.A.U. champs, a feat they performed in winning the Concordia Invitational Tournament in November.

The team also expanded its road schedule to include two of the best women's teams in the United States, Immaculata and Queens College, N.Y. "Our goal to win the nationals fell short last year," Hickey states, "but it was the first step for a growing programme. We plan to be a national contender for years to come."

Hickey's optimism is based on several reasons. The team has one of the best schedules in the country. Concordia has attracted several outstanding athletes and the programme has the solid support of the Athletic Department.

This year's schedule appears just as strong as last year's, with tournaments at Laurentian, Ottawa, Bishop's, Queens in New York, as well as the Concordia Invitational tournament in November.

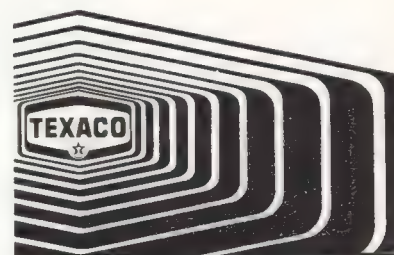

While the Q.U.A.A. schedule has been cut to just nine regular season games, the Stingers have replaced the lost games with non-conference competition against some of the top teams in North America.

The Queens tourney features American teams Old Dominion, Oral Roberts, Michigan State and Southern Connecticut, while the Concordia classic lists defending C.W.I.A.U. champion Laurentian, University of New Brunswick, Acadia, Bishop's and Guelph.

Leading the list of returnees is 5'10" forward Gay Owens and 6' Cheryl Petersen. Owens, a former junior national team player, is expected to have a banner year both offensively and defensively. Gay's ability to play at either the guard or forward spot should make her one of the top players in the country.

Petersen averaged 7 points and five rebounds in her rookie year. Hickey believes that Cheryl is a rapidly improving player who will develop into an all-star college forward.

Newcomers expected to play an integral role in the '77-78 Stinger season are forward Debbie Larsen, a John Abbott standout and Laura Gillespie, an aggressive guard from the Ottawa Rookies.

STINGER HOCKEY ♀

The 1976-77 Concordia Women's hockey team was one of transition. It was a combination of several veterans playing out their last season and several rookies, many of whom had never played organized hockey. The blend netted the Stingers the Huntingdon Invitational Tournament and second place in the Montreal Women's Hockey League behind McGill as well as impressive wins over American teams — Colgate University, Potsdam State University and Clarkson College.

The veterans have graduated, but coach J.P. Robitaille is optimistic about Stinger chances this year. He has good reason. The rookie crop has been well seasoned, especially goaler Terry Kenney and he is expecting an influx of talented John Abbott players.

Besides Kenney, who will be taking over full-time goal-keeping duties from Helene "Rocky" Rivard, the returnees include former national team skier turned hockey player Judy Ware, the surprise of the '76-77 season, as well as, Renee Syvret and Wendy Jamieson. Back for her third season and the most experienced member of team is Julie "Tiger" Nicholls.

Heading the list of newcomers are Abbott grads Julie Healy, Bev Dohn, whose sister Gail was a Loyola Tommy, and Joyce "Runt" Willems. They are expected to help lead the '77-78 edition of the hockey stingers back to the days of glory enjoyed by the old Loyola Tommies. Could be a banner year. It certainly will be an interesting year. They have all the ingredients.

STINGER VOLLEYBALL ♀

The husband and wife team of Nick and Tanya Timtsenko are back again as coach and manager of the female volleyball Stingers, Concordia's most under-rated and least publicized team. Timtsenko, with his best team in years is hoping that this is the year for volleyball, which he claims is the only game in town.

The volleyballers practise in virtual anonymity down the street at Trenholme Park gym, but over the past five years Timtsenko has been making volleyball players out of good athletes and has been molding and building a team which has steadily acquired a solid reputation. Last year the Stingers won each of their invitational tournaments and captured first place in the Quebec Winter Games.

The 1977-78 edition of the volleyball Stingers promises to be even more exciting despite the graduation of three-time M.V.P. Claudette Agard. Timtsenko, who has polished his coaching skills in Russia, is banking on the play of last year's most improved player, Dorothy Kowaleska, 1977 M.V.P. Greta Sterle and her sister Miriam, who is "one of the better setters in the province" and who does a very good job. Six foot Diane Brisebois is a newcomer who could definitely help the Stinger fortunes. A former provincial junior team player, Brisebois is an outstanding and dynamic spiker.

It's the best kept secret at the Athletic Complex, but women's volleyball is alive and well and flourishing. It may not be the only game in town, as Timtsenko suggests, but it is most definitely worth a look.

We've got the winning spirit

At "The Olympics of Food and Drink," Monde Selection, luck doesn't count.

Because it's the world's toughest competition for spirits.

That's why winning a single Monde Selection medal—Gold, Silver, or Bronze—is something to boast about for years.

That's also why what our spirits have done is so very remarkable.

In just the last 5 years, Schenley products have won more medals than any other Canadian distiller.

- 11 Gold.
- 4 Silver.
- 3 Bronze.
- 18 in total.

Plus the highest honour of all, The Monde Selection Perpetual Trophy.

It was awarded to OFC-8-Year-Old in 1974 for winning an unprecedented 3 consecutive Gold Medals in a row.

(We're pleased to announce that OFC has done it again, won the 1976 Gold Medal, too.)

What do all our medals mean to you?

One simple thing.

If our name is on the outside of the bottle what's on the inside is "the best in the world."

So, if you thirst for a winner, give us a try.
